

You Have Always Been A Friend©

Writer: Robert E Jones

R E Jones Publishing/ASCAP

Vs.1

There were times I did not follow, when my heart was less than true
But even when I brought You sorrow, You were there to see me through
And when it seemed I would not make it, and my life was at an end
When others left me all forsaken, You have always been a friend

Chorus

Sticking closer than a brother, touching all I was inside
You've been true above all others wrapped around me more than life
And knowing everything completely, what I am and what I've been
Did not change Your thoughts about me, You have always been a friend

Vs. 2

And when I walk in quiet places, You're beside me I can tell
Or in a crowded room of faces, I can find You there as well
Oh Your love has never softened, You've proven time and time again
And I should really say more often, how You've always been a friend

Chorus

Sticking closer than a brother, touching all I was inside
You've been true above all others wrapped around me more than life
And knowing everything completely, what I am and what I've been
Did not change Your thoughts about me, You have always been a friend

And knowing everything completely, what I am and what I've been
Did not change Your thoughts about me, You have always been a friend

D.O.C. 1995